DINERS IN STAMPEDE AS MAN IS SHOT DEAD

Police Reserves Called In to Quell Excitement After Mysterious Shooting.

BULLETS RIDDLE CAFE

Gregorio Logana Laid Low During Italian Fight in Brooklyn.

TWO OTHERS WOUNDED

Witnesses Unable to Tell Police What Caused the Trouble.

Joseph Busardo of 380 Clinton street, Brooklyn, a drug clerk, walked up the stairs of 229 Columbia street, Brooklyn, last night about 9:30 o'clock and entered the Tosca Restaurant, one of the most popular of the Italian restaurants of the district. He found fifteen men sitting at the tables eating, among them Gregorio Logana of 138 President street and Samuel Pellegrino of 234 Columbia street, a brother of the owner of the Tosca.

According to the police of the Hamilton avenue station, who sent reserves to quell the riot that followed, Busardo drew a revolver the instant he stepped into the place and began shooting. Logana, the police said, also drew a revolver. Others in the restaurant also are believed to have had guns. At least fifteen shots were fired, chairs and other furniture overturned and smashed, and when the police had come and restored order they found Logana lying dead at the foot of the Union street entrance to the restaurant. Busardo was in the restaurant kitchen with a bullet wound in his back and Pellegrino had been shot in the right arm.

Police Take Dozen Men.

The restaurant looked as though it had been visited by a cyclone, and when the police reserves arrived the street outside was thronged by an excited crowd of Italians, already out and celebrating the election, and from the restaurant by the sound of the shots and the crash of the fight. The crowd was dispersed, and more than a dozen men, including Busardo and Pellegrino, were sent to the Hamilton avenue station to be questioned by detectives. More than thirty patrolmen from the station house and from Police Headquarters were sent to the place before order was restored.

The detectives said they had not been able to learn the cause of the shooting. Patrolman Daniel Sullivan, on the duty, was walking near the restaurant when he heard it. He ran to the place at once and up the stairs, and was almost to the restaurant when he saw Logana stagger from the door and run down the Union street stairs. There was another man ahead of Logana, the policeman said, and this man was also wounded, but could not be found later. Logana kept ahead of the policeman until he had reached the foot of the stairs, where he fell, and was dead a few minutes later.

When the detectives got there they found a .38 caliber revolver lying on a windowsill in the restaurant, a .32 caliber automatic pistol in a fruit basket in the kitchen, and a .22 caliber revolver on the kitchen floor. Eight shots had been fired from these weapons, the witnesses examined by the police profess to know nothing of the shooting. Most of them said they had been eating in the place when Busardo entered, and that the shooting began shortly afterward.

ASTOR REGRETS TALE OF WEALTH'S TRANSFER Finds His Money a Handicap in Parliamentary Campaign.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, London, Nov. 7.

Major J. J. Astor now regrets having made the statement in answer to a becker, that he was transferring his money from America to England. It is reported he said afterward that he did not realize his remark, made in the course of a political speech, would be published in New York.

Major Astor who is a candidate on the Unionist ticket is finding that his money is proving more of an embarrassment than a help to him in his election fight at Dover. At an opposition meeting one speaker said: "Money, money, money. We hear nothing but talk of money from Astor's supporters. They meet me in the street and say: 'Look at his money. See what it means.' I am sick of such talk. It is not money we want. It is the man."

Lloyd George disappointed 4,000 liberals at Newcastle today by his failure to make the fighting speech he has so often promised. There is no doubt that he is losing much prestige in the country among those who wishing to see old campaigning start give them a full measure of excitement and party strife, cannot digest the national unity tone of his speeches. Happily for him, Bonar Law is quite as disappointing in affording excitement.

MOTORISTS SEARCHED; MACHINES ARE HELD

Canadian Customs Officials Detain Them at Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 7.—More than a dozen automobiles with considerable merchandise are being held by Canadian customs officers today as the result of a close search of machines and pedestrians crossing the bridges here yesterday and last night. Yesterday was Thanksgiving Day in Canada, and a large number of persons took advantage of the holiday to cross the border. Those who did shopping on the American side found more than the usual cursory examination of baggage and automobiles when they returned. It was said to be in response to complaints of Canadian merchants that their business was being hurt by competition with the action of the customs officials in smuggling goods.

Defeats Runyon

Judge George S. Siler, Democrat, elected Governor of New Jersey.

JERSEY DEMOCRATS SWEEP EDWARDS IN

ing prohibition his main issue, but his vote in admittedly wet districts was surprisingly large.

Atlantic Republican.

One of the surprising features of the election is that early returns show a Republican landslide in Atlantic county, which includes Atlantic City and which has been expected to go for Gov. Edwards by a large majority. But the early counting of votes gave the city and county to Senator Frelinghuysen by a majority of more than 7,000 and to Mr. Runyon for governor by a majority of more than 2,000.

Isaac Bacharach, Republican Representative from the Second Congressional district, was returned to Washington for his fourth term by a majority estimated by Republican leaders at about 25,000. The Republicans of Atlantic county will also elect Emerson L. Richards as State Senator over S. C. Hinkle by about 10,000 majority. A big favorable vote was cast in that county also for the proposed $40,000,000 road bond issue.

The returns from Cape May county indicate that Senator Frelinghuysen won there over Gov. Edwards and that Mr. Runyon had carried the county over Judge Siler. The Republican candidate for the Assembly also appears to have won the county by a small majority, probably only a few hundred.

Other Counties.

First reports from Morris county, a Republican stronghold, were that Gov. Edwards was running well, but Republican leaders declared that party lines were holding and that Senator Frelinghuysen would carry the county.

Little disorder at the polls was reported throughout the State. In Camden Judge Samuel Shay of the Common Pleas Court ordered out the State troopers to stop a supposed disturbance at the Third Ward in Camden, but later rescinded the order on the statement of Prosecutor Wolverton that the action was not necessary. Patrolmen made an investigation later and found the ward quiet.

In the Eighth Congressional District of New Jersey Frank J. McNulty, Democrat, appears to have beaten the Rev. Warren P. Coons, who was endorsed by the Anti-Saloon League.

The Ninth District is close, but indications are that the Republicans will win with Wayne Parker over Daniel T. Menahan of Orange.

Pro R. Lebeck has been re-elected to Congress in the Tenth District.

POLISH FINANCES WILL BE REFORMED

WARSAW, Poland, Nov. 6.—A complete reform in the existing finances of Poland has been announced by Finance Minister Jastrzebski. His program includes a monetary readjustment to be effected in from three to five years. Also he would increase and simplify taxation. The time has arrived, M. Jastrzebski declares, for the establishment of a Polish national currency. The unit is to be the zloty. The treasury has at its disposal 100,000,000 gold francs for this purpose, and also 150,000,000 gold francs for industrial aid. The tax program also involves a general increase in taxes, particularly land taxes, which he proposes to increase twenty times.

STATE LEGISLATURE CONTROL IS IN DOUBT

Democrats May Win Albany Senate and Republicans the House.

EACH SIDE CLAIMS BOTH

Caulfield Succeeds in Kings—Henry Sage Defeated, Also George Fearon.

Control of the State Legislature was undecided early this morning. The Democrats may have won the Senate. The Assembly may possibly have gone Republican. It was so close that both sides claimed both houses, and evidently the majority either way was to be limited to one or two votes.

The Republicans have won twenty-two seats in the Senate; the Democrats have twenty-one. There are eight districts to be heard from and several were doubtful. Twenty-six votes is a majority in the upper house. James R. Caulfield was the only Republican who slipped through the hurricane alive in Kings. All the New York nominees for Senate appear to have won. Schuyler Meyer this morning was uncertain as to whether he had won. Henry Sage did not win in Albany. George Fearon lost in Syracuse.

If the Democrats win four of the eight missing districts they will have the upper branch which controls the power of confirming appointments to the Governor.

The Assembly is almost as close. Sixty-nine Republicans are elected, but they are all the upstate men. The Democrats have elected forty-three. They have made many gains upstate, including two in Westchester, Buffalo, Syracuse, Ulster and Schuyler county. George Blakeley, one of the oldest members, lost his seat in Westchester. R. B. Livermore, son of Mrs. Arthur Livermore, was beaten in Ward's ballwick.

The thirty-eight missing districts are nearly all in the Metropolitan section. Although the Republicans appeared to be well in the lead, the Democrats hoped that their sweep here would carry all the doubtful districts.

The Republicans need only six votes in addition to those already won to give them the necessary majority. The prospect early today was that the Republicans and Democrats might each control one house.

GENESEO.

GENESEO, Nov. 7.—Twenty-two districts out of forty-one in Livingston county give Miller 4,829, Smith 2,460, Donovan 5,105, Lunn 2,480, Calder 4,468 and Copeland 2,404. Livingston county has elected Lewis G. Stapley, Republican, to the Assembly.

Morris Calls Victory Personal to Smith

GEORGE K. MORRIS, Republican State chairman, said last night he was certain that the result of the State election in New York was no reflection on the national Administration, as national issues did not enter into the campaign. "It was more of a personal equation," he said, "and the people elected Al Smith."

PRESSMEN PREVENT 'EVENING WORLD' EXTRA

Pressmen in the office of the Evening World refused to operate the presses after 7 o'clock last evening and the Evening World was unable to continue publication of the election returns. Because of the action of the Evening World pressmen the other evening newspapers discontinued publication of the election returns so as not to take advantage of the Evening World's situation. All the pressrooms have been operated under an arbitration award made by Judge Martin T. Stanton of the United States District Court of Appeals last spring.

MOTOR KILLS CHILD NEAR YONKERS HOME

Eight-Year-Old Girl Dead When Surgeon Arrives.

Anna Black, 8, of 1989 Amsterdam avenue, was playing near her home yesterday when an automobile driven by John Abdenscheln of 19 Belmont avenue, Yonkers, struck her. She was dead when an ambulance surgeon reached the scene. Abdenscheln was arrested on a charge of homicide.

HARLEM SOCIALIST WINS.

The American Labor party announced last night that August Claessens, Socialist candidate for Assemblyman from the Seventeenth Assembly district, Harlem, has been elected by 700 plurality. It claimed the election of Abraham I. Ship-lacoff in the Twenty-third Assembly district, Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch in the Eighth Assembly district and Samuel Boardley in the Sixth Assembly district.

HULL SEES 'REVOLT' IN VOTING RESULTS

Democratic National Chairman Says Returns Show People Are Dissatisfied.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—A statement at 11 o'clock last night from Democratic National Committee headquarters in the name of Chairman Cordell Hull said that "the prediction of a great Democratic victory made last Monday in a statement from Democratic national headquarters is being verified by the returns from all sections of the country which have been heard from at this hour."

"The wonderful victory won by Gov. Smith and Senator Copeland in New York," that statement continued, "will only vary in degree, according to early reports received at Democratic national headquarters. General dissatisfaction with the Republican Administration and the Republican Congress is clearly indicated in the returns received up to this hour. "The early returns are from the East and the middle West, where Democratic candidates are generally leading, and if these leads are maintained not only will these sections record a victory, but give promise of a nation-wide revolt against the Republican party, with a restoration of the Democratic party to power so far as it can be accomplished at this election. The Republican party has failed the country utterly, and every indication at this hour is that the people have decided to return to the party of performance, progress and prosperity."

MUCH OF TEXAS VOTING IS DONE ON STICKERS

Mayfield's Name Off Many Ballots—Rival's Off All.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 7.—Earle E. Mayfield, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Charles A. Culberson, and George E. B. Peddy, Independent Democrat, endorsed by the Republican State Committee, were the figures of overshadowing interest in today's election in Texas.

Mayfield, with his name off the ballot in a number of counties, but legally entitled to a place on all of the ballots in the State by virtue of an eleventh hour Supreme Court ruling in his favor, was said to have the Ku Klux Klan casting a solid vote for him, although he has not said anything about the Klan in his campaigning. Peddy was figured on to swing the anti-Klan and Republican vote. Peddy's name was not on the ballot.

The election climaxes a bitter battle of lawsuits, injunctions and mandamus proceedings.

The American Labor party announced last night that August Claessens, Socialist candidate for Assemblyman from the Seventeenth Assembly district, Harlem, has been elected by 700 plurality. It claimed the election of Abraham I. What becomes of 30,000,000 cement sacks a year?

Practically 90 per cent of the 95,000,000 barrels of portland cement shipped last year was delivered in returnable cotton sacks.

To supply users of cement promptly, the industry must have about 200,000,000 sacks either on hand or in use.

The sack method of shipping is most convenient. There are four sacks to a barrel. Each sack contains 94 pounds of cement—a cubic foot. And a cubic foot is a handy volume in proportioning concrete mixtures.

When cement is shipped, the sacks are billed to the purchaser. When they are returned, they are bought back at the same price if they are in usable or repairable condition. This involves much work in checking, cleaning, sorting and repairing.

But in spite of the fact that every good cement sack is redeemable, 30,000,000 of the sacks shipped every year fail to come back—a loss of nearly $5,000,000 a year at present prices of new sacks.

To replace these "lost, strayed or stolen" sacks requires annually over 30,000 bales of cotton. It requires that the textile industry weave a strip of cloth 30 inches wide and 17,000 miles long. It means that 1,600 looms are kept working full time for a year.

Thousands of sacks returned to the cement mills for redemption are damaged, yet accepted for credit, if they can be repaired. This repair is done by the cement manufacturer at his own expense.

A medium sized plant shipping, say 1,000,000 barrels of cement a year, has to repair an average of 6,000 sacks per day from among those returned for credit. This keeps 6 people constantly working at rapidly operated electric sewing machines. In a million barrel a year plant, 22 people are constantly employed sorting, counting, repairing and otherwise caring for returned sacks so that they may again be used.

At the present time $30,000,000 would be a conservative estimate of the investment which the cement industry has in cotton sacks.

Sacks are one of the lesser, but nevertheless important items in the cement industry.
